"Buddy" Rogers Judges Campus Beauty Contest Next Saturday

Twenty Candidates to Meet Star in Willard Hotel for Final Selection

SPECTATORS MAY ATTEND

Orchestra Leader and Loew's Donate Silver Loving Cup to First-Place Winner

Twenty representative campus beauties will gather in the Fairfax room of the Willard Hotel at 8 p. m. Saturday, January 20, for the final selection of the three most beautiful women of the University, it was announced today. Judging the contest in person is Charles (Buddy) Rogers, famed screen, stage, and radio star.

Arranged through the courtesy of Lew Brown, publicity director of Loew's Washington theatres, the contest will be recorded in the pages of the 1934 Cherry Tree. Charles Rogers, as judge, will select the three most beautiful women after having personally seen each contestant. For the sake of impartiality, the committee in charge has ruled that each contestant participating must present herself in evening dress.

First prize winner, the beauty queen of the University, will be presented with a silver loving cup donated by Loew's Washington theatres and Mr. Rogers. Second and third prize winners are to share a full page each in the Beauty Contest section of this year's annual, Manager Wendell Bain stated today.

Decision of the judges will be final. Inability to present themselves at the contest on the stipulated date will constitute a formal withdrawal from the contest. No other judgments, other than the Saturday night finals, will be held, the Cherry Tree board ruled.

"A Hatchet makes chips, why not call it 'chips'?" W. E. Van Deman entered this suggestion as his entry for the $5 prize for the news-writing column which has so far existed two weeks in the world unbaptized. No doubt the contestant was unaware that in suggesting "chips" he was only one of many, who have asked for the return of that gossip column which is now history.

Fearing that all extra brain power is being used for exams, term papers, and so forth, the business staff has decided to give those who think that they have lost a chance at $5 another trial. The contest is held over until January 28, and the winner will be announced in the Hatchet two weeks hence.

One ambitious individual, George M. Pollard, submitted five titles, while Larry Parker came next with three, so it can be seen that there is no limit to the number suggestions. All students of the university are eligible except members of the business staff of The Hatchet.

This feature is being developed by the business staff in an attempt to make advertising material more interesting and useful to the students, and less expensive for merchants catering to them. Last week, the column is reported to have brought "very satisfactory" response for a number of the advertisers.

Glee Clubs Take Part In Many Programs

Invitations to sing in the near future at two society functions have been accepted by the men's glee club. Next Saturday night the men will present a group of songs at the North Carolina State Society ball at the Shoreham. Their next appearance is at the Engineering School ball, which will take place on February 9 at the Shoreham.

On the afternoon of February 10, the combined men's and women's glee clubs will be featured on the program of the Panhellenic Association luncheon, at which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is to speak. The two units will also give a Sunday afternoon vespers concert at the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church, February 25.

Both clubs have been asked to present a full evening's program on March 17 at the Washington Missionary College in Takoma Park.

Change of Address And Overdue Books May Stop Grades

The possibility that some students may not receive this semester's grades on time was announced today by University officials. Grades of students who have not returned overdue library books and those who have failed to notify the Registrar of changes of address will be held up.

In order to facilitate the forwarding of grades at the proper time, the Registrar, Fred E. Nessell, has requested that all students who have changed their addresses to let his office know at once.

According to the Librarian, John Russell Mason, at the beginning of the examination period he will forward to the Registrar the names of students who have failed to return overdue library books, and the Registrar will withhold those students' grades until their library record is clear.

Outburst of Activity Features Council's Pre-Exam Session

Madigan Scores Body for Lethargic Attitude; Three Motions Passed

In a sudden burst of activity, the Student Council passed three important measures at the last meeting of the semester, held Thursday, January 11.

1. Three candidates for office in the class elections were declared ineligible by virtue of the fact that each had an insufficient number of credit hours.

2. The Council went on record as favoring some form of class dues.

3. A motion was passed favoring any movement which would bring about class spirit and organization.

The three candidates declared ineligible at the eleventh hour were Katherine Porter, Edward Kemper, and Maurice Mench. According to George Emmart, chairman of the elections committee, Porter, Kemper and Mench had not completed 30 semester hours of work, the required total to contest in the sophomore class elections.

Madigan Scores Council.

Withdrawal of these candidates left the sophomore class going to the polls with two candidates for president; an uncontested vice president in Marjorie Nelson; and no one running for class treasurer. Upon motion, it was decided that the second-year men would take care of any vacancies during the year by running their own election.

Passing of a motion to favor some form of class dues was precipitated indirectly by a fiery speech by John Madigan, who declared that the Council had thus far shown itself to be too lethargic, too wary of assuming responsibility, and not attempting to foster important measures on campus.

Madigan's demand for some action of a constructive nature was made in

Chapel Service Friday Noon In Charge of Baptist Students

The Rev. Philip G. Murray, pastor's assistant at the Calvary Baptist Church, will be the speaker at the College chapel exercises on Friday, January 19, at 12:10 o'clock in Corcoran Hall. The chapel will be in charge of the Baptist Students' Union. Provost William Allan Wilbur will preside.

Last week the Rev. J. Harvey Dunham, of Western Presbyterian Church, spoke at the chapel, which was held under the auspices of the newly organized Westminster Society University, formed by the 468 Presbyterian students on the campus.

Motor Crash Kills James J. Buffalino

Law Student Killed in Accident at Gettysburg Returning to Classes

James J. Buffalino, law student, died on January 8 in a Gettysburg hospital from injuries received the previous week while motoring back to his classes at the University.

Buffalino, 23, was a first-year student in the Law School. Returning on January 2 with two companions from a Christmas vacation at his home in Pittston, Pa., he was in an automobile accident near Gettysburg. He was rushed to the Annie M. Warner Hospital, where he failed to recover from serious injuries.

After graduating with honors from Pittston High School in 1928, Buffalino pursued his studies for one year at the U. S. Naval Academy, one year at Canisius University, Buffalo, N. Y., and two years at Temple University, Philadelphia. Last fall he registered for law classes at George Washington University. He was known as an able student, and was a member of the Temple University branch of Alpha Phi Delta fraternity.

"Three-Cornered Moon" Selected As Second Play By Cue, Curtain

Comedy Listed by Billboard Among Ten Best of Last Season

WAS NEW YORK SUCCESS

Movie Version Starred Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Others

"Three-Cornered Moon," released yesterday by the publisher, will be presented by Cue and Curtain as their second play of the year.

The play, written by Gertrude Tonkonogy, was secured for Cue and Curtain by Miss Constance Connor Brown, director, on a recent trip to New York. It was listed by Billboard, outstanding magazine of the amusement world, as one of the ten best plays in New York last season.

"Three-Cornered Moon" opened in New York City on March 16, 1933, starring Ruth Gordon and Cecilia Loftus. Washington saw it in October as a motion picture with Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen, Mary Boland, Tom Brown, Lyda Roberti, Wallace Ford, and others.

"Times" Review Quoted

It is, according to the New York Times review, "a harum-scarum lark danced on the surface of a down-at-the-heels fable. It is a whirlwind of impudent irrelevances—a demented antic—a romp." "It is a story of the Rimplegars, a Brooklyn family as nutty as their name, the only family that ever succeeded in making the Marx brothers jealous."

Mrs. Rimplegar, aptly described as "bats in the belfry ringing curfew," early in the play admits that she lost the family fortune by buying "some stock" from "some man." "I think

Journalistic Group Will Initiate Eight Men February 7

Eight pledges of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, will be formally initiated in to the organization at ceremonies following a banquet on Wednesday, February 7.

The neophytes, who have won prominence by their work on The Hatchet and Cherry Tree, are Walter Rhinehart, John R. Busick, Everett H. Woodward, Ralph Given, John Everett, Charles A. Bell, Minton Snyder, and Robert Herzog.

John Madigan, president of the fraternity, announces that several well-known Washingtonians will be present at the banquet as guests and to speak on topics of interest to newspapermen. The place has not yet been selected.

A second group of campus journalists will be pledged at the banquet, but will not be initiated until some time in the Spring.

Danzansky Defeats Hitch In Struggle For Senior Class Presidency; Stevens Wilson And Firth Head Other Classes

New Class Presidents

Presenting Joseph Danzansky and Edward Wilson, new presidents of the senior and sophomore classes respectively. Danzansky defeated Robert Hitch, while Wilson downed William Bell at Friday's balloting. Both hold office until June.

Spelman Downes Bacon for Soph. Secretaryship; Edwards Over Margolius

760 BALLOTS ARE CAST

Brewer Noses Out Volz in Close Contest for Frosh. Vice Presidency

Joseph Danzansky, Columbian College, with 93 votes, was elected president at large of the senior class by a margin of 22 votes over Robert Hitch, Law School, who received 71 votes in last week's first general class election conducted by the Student Council. In all, 760 valid ballots were cast by the four classes.

Raymond Firth, with 104 votes, defeated Robert Gray, with 73, for president of the freshman class, where voting was heaviest and all four offices hotly contested.

Wilson, Spelman Win
Edward Wilson, with 90 votes, defeated William P. Bell by five votes for the presidency of the sophomore class, and Mary Spelman defeated Betty Bacon for the secretary position in the same class, 90 to 87.

James Edwards defeated Bernard Margolius, 83 to 46, in the only contest in the junior class; Leonard Stevens, Amanda Chittum, and Emma Louis Monroe were unopposed for president, vice president, and secretary.

Ruth Brewer won a victory over Verna Volz by 12 votes for the vice president position in the freshman class and Louise Kramer polled the huge vote of 207 in a landslide for secretary. Leslie E. Dickson, with 160 votes, defeated Albert Robbins, with 115, for the office of treasurer.

Marjorie Nelson, unopposed candidate for vice president of the sophomore class, was paid a tribute of 160 votes, the second largest total of the election.

Fred Stevenson defeated Margaret Liebler by 12 votes for representation as an officer of government on the Senior Council in the only contest for this body.

Frosh Cast 282 Ballots

The freshmen cast 282 votes, more than were cast by any of the other classes, and 122 more than were cast in the assembly balloting in December which was declared void by the Student Council. The sophomores cast 182 votes, the juniors 110, and for president of the senior class 184 were cast.

The total of 760 votes have been checked by the elections committee of the Student Council and an indefinite number over this amount were destroyed as void. The results are subject to the official approval of the Student Council.

Open Lambie House For Social Activities

Faculty Women Will Entertain Men and Women Thursday Afternoon

An opportunity for all students of the University to gather socially on the campus once a week for refreshments and dancing in the redecorated Lambie House will be afforded beginning Thursday.

Plans were announced this week by a committee of the Faculty Women's Club to entertain both men and women students each Thursday afternoon from 3:30 until 5 o'clock as part of the new scheme for the use of the Lambie building as the center of student activities and interests.

Mrs. William Allen Wilbur heads the committee in charge of the entertainments and is assisted by Mrs. Dewitt C. Croissant and Mrs. Robert Whitney Bolwell. Each Thursday one of these ladies, with a group of faculty wives, will be hostess.

The entertainments will fill a need on the campus for greater social contact among students and with the faculty and faculty wives.

In making the announcement for the Faculty Women's Club Mrs. Wilbur emphasized the fact that all students of the University, both men and women, are cordially urged to attend.

The hostesses Thursday will be Mrs. Wilbur, Mrs. Bolwell, Mrs. Pixlee, Mrs. McIntire, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. Willard and Mrs. Briggs.

Registrar Requests Organizations' Lists

Fred E. Nessell, Registrar, once more urges every fraternity and sorority to submit to him immediately a list of all active members and pledges, so that he may complete his record.

A request for this information was sent out several weeks ago, but many of the reports have not been sent in. Mr. Nessell encountered particular difficulty among the fraternities which had moved since the publication of the handbook, and whose notices were returned to the registrar's office.

Deibert Will Lecture On Foreign Students Over Radio Forum

Problems of Students in America Subject of Radio Talk Over WMAL

What are the problems which face a foreign student as he begins his study in a country different from his homeland? This will be the subject of a radio broadcast by Professor Allen T. Deibert, advisor to students from foreign countries, next Thursday at 8:30 p. m. over Station WMAL.

Beginning with a history of the foreigner as a student in this country, Professor Deibert will tell of some of the first students who came to America to study, and of their success in their homeland.

There are many problems which this type of student has to face, he will continue, from getting adjusted, to choosing his courses and overcoming his loneliness. He must get adjusted to our customs and habits as well as our language.

Will Discuss Work Here
Having told of the difficulties of the foreigner, the speaker will tell of what is being done to help him adjust himself. After a description of the International Houses in different cities, Professor Deibert will describe the work of the International Students' Society here at the University and conclude with an explanation of how these

The New Lambie House

Today's news tells us that the Faculty Women's Club has made plans for the use of Lambie House by both men and women for a "social hour" every Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilbur, chairman of the committee in charge, speaking for the club, stated that it was their hope that these receptions would be a beginning toward the use of the Lambie House as "a center of student activities and interest."

This, we believe, will be welcomed by the students and should prove one of the most successful undertakings that could be attempted by the club. It appears to be one of the few really valuable contributions to our student life which has been undertaken recently.

Just as we like to consider the establishment of the band by the Student Council under Ted Rinehart and the organization of the cheering section by Ted Pierson as two splendid accomplishments, we hope we will be able to point to the building of a University Center by the Faculty Women's Club as the outstanding contribution in its own field and the third factor in building something in the minds of students by which to remember George Washington University.

But for the project to be successful and Lambie House made the center of "all" student interest an effort must be made to wipe out the atmosphere of "no-man's-land" which heretofore has surrounded the Lambie House. Attendance at these receptions by the men must become "the thing to do," and it will take some time for them to get over their present attitude of shyness even when on business.

Then, too, the committee must not be discouraged if the attendance is not all they have hoped for at this meeting Thursday, because most students are not devoting much time to dancing only two days before examinations. But after this week, we believe, the events will be so popular that the Faculty Women will have to cancel their generous offer of "refreshments."

If We Only

Exams begin Saturday. Counting today you have just three days and three nights in which to prepare for the first one if you are lucky enough to have it the opening day. No doubt you are sufficiently worried already without any pessimism from us but it is a grand time to comment upon a foolish error of human ways.

Wouldn't it have been wonderful if you had studied like you promised yourselves you were going to do about this time last year?

Those two term papers would have been complete, and you would only have to read over your notes for an hour or two Friday afternoon and rest yourself at a movie Friday night.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if you could go to bed tonight about ten or eleven o'clock with nothing to worry about? You wouldn't have to get up tomorrow morning before daylight to finish one of those book reports due before you can even begin to study. Getting up early in the morning is hard, too; it is long before you get any breakfast and you feel queer all day.

Well, if you ever get out of this mess this time, you will study next year, won't you? Yes, but will you remember that?

OUT IN THE WORLD

By GEORGE T. JARVIS

A colored man, named Bill Wardell, died recently, who claimed that he and not an earthquake "pulled down" San Francisco in 1906.

One April morning he thirsted. Going into a saloon, he ordered the bartender to give him some gin on credit. However, no money, no gin.

"White man, you all better fix up dat gin, or I'm gonna pull down dis here bar," said Wardell. Still no gin was given him.

He puffed, he huffed, he puffed—and down came the bar, the ceiling, the whole building. Outside he found wreckage and walls tottering everywhere. "Lawdy, I didn't know mah own strength."

And to his dying day Bill believed that because "the watah pipes was all fastened together all ovah de town," the jerk he gave the saloon pulled on the city water system and wrecked in San Francisco.

Scare headlines last week about possible war between this country and Japan may have helped to sell papers—but no good was done the cause of peace. Hotheads in both countries talk war, and talk war. Finally, if some one strikes a fatal match, and we young fellows drop our books to learn murder while healthy little brown men strive to murder us—who will be to blame for the catastrophe?

By now we see that after all it wasn't the Kaiser who caused the World War. That earthquake happened because whole peoples lost their heads.

Another war will come only from similar causes. Let us not be misled when some jingo American (or Japanese) tries "to pull down the bar."

JUST BETWEEN US--

By LUDWIG CAMINITA, JR.

When the Hall of Fame is selected by the Cherry Tree judges, they will select their individuals on as impartial and just a basis as it is possible to do. Yet I know that they will miss one or two people who should have their names placed in the honor roll. They'll miss them because these individuals have never worked officially with a recognized group.

Take the case of Sam F., for example. If ever I were to nominate my candidate for the Hall of Fame on the basis of good work well done, Sam F. would be my choice. Still he will never make the grade. You see, he has not affiliated himself officially with any important project. He merely worked hard and remained in the background.

When an important dance was given last year, someone asked Sam for his assistance. He gave his time and efforts unstintingly to further the interests of the dance. But his name wasn't on the dance program as having done such and such; as a matter of fact he didn't even come to the dance. Sam was content with the "thanks" given him and asked no more.

Along came another campus project. Hard workers were needed. Sam was there. When it was over, Sam received his "thanks" and went his way. I wonder how often he has done this, always without complaint or protests?

Probably the biggest thing about Sam is that he is just as willing to help you when it seems so foolish to try as he is when the venture is destined to be a great success. This year, for example, someone tried to get a group of campus individuals together to do some work in a certain affair. No one said anything, but it was evident they didn't expect any success for such a silly venture.

As a result, the one who tried to "put the thing over" found himself without aides: that is, without help if you didn't count Sam. Of course he took Sam's help for granted. He called Sam on the phone and Sam said, "Sure."

Sam started working right away. Between the two of them, they had things going so nicely that within a few days it was perfectly obvious that success was inevitable. After that it was easy. There was always someone around to give a little lift here and a little lift there. After all, one might as well help; it was going to be a success. No one paid much attention to Sam, though. He seldom said anything. If outside help was needed, Sam would just walk out, call his friends, not affiliated with the University, and presto! the problem was solved. But he never considered that important.

When it was all over, Sam went home with a meek "see you later."

Everyone else remained to pat themselves on the back in a modest way and then waited for the congratulations they knew they would receive. John and Betty Doe were praised for their fine work. Of course, no one mentioned Sam. They didn't even know his name.

There are quite a few of these individuals on the campus. Quite a few Sams. If it weren't for them, there would be a great many things around here that would still have to be accomplished instead of being a matter of past history. Of course, sometimes the Betty and John Does really have worked hard. In a very few cases they have worked all alone. But I would venture to say that nine out of ten times a Sam F. hovers in the background.

If I were running a contest, I would include not only a Hall of Fame, but one for "the man behind the scenes," and Sam F. would be my choice number one.

Rene Bonnerjea, who has gained recognition upon campus as a versatile poet, sent a contribution to The Hatchet that is quite out of his usual line of writing, at least so far as his literary efforts of campus are concerned. He calls the piece, "Petty Thoughts," and some of them pleased me so much, I thought I would pass them on to you:

Man's superiority over woman is reduced to razor blades.

A French poet's purgatory is a classroom in which he has to listen to freshmen translating his works into English.

Don't forget that the moon is not responsible for the songs composed in its honor.

Debts in life are like spice in food—a little painful perhaps, but they add considerably to its flavor.

If a man dares and succeeds, he is a hero; if he does not, he is a social outcast.

The "Mayflower" was a bridge.

Henry VIII was one of the few kings of England who did not have paramours.

No author, worthy of the name, writes a book without using foreign quotations.

Happiness is discovered only when it is past.

These are but a few of Bonnerjea's "Petty Thoughts." Some of them we could not include because they were of The New Yorker type. But if you want to get them, drop around The Hatchet office. I'm sure Bonnerjea wouldn't mind.

ON OTHER CAMPUSES

The age-worn cry of "modern college youth" suffered a rude jolt as the report drifted in about the freshman at Utah University who has just celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday. The contrast was soon found in the "frosh" at Minnesota who is spending his thirteenth year as a student at that school.

Proving that there is more than one way to get through a course, students at the Spanish University at Vallepin locked their professors in a room until they had promised to pass the class without an examination.

The final word as to why students flunk has been issued by a dean at the University of Nebraska, his reasons being, Love, Dumbness and Faculty Intelligence.

Students of the University of Missouri are able to take out insurance against flunking a course. The insurance covers the expense of a summer course.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

A UNIVERSITY in the Capital City with a student body as large as ours can, and should, support an annual distinctive dance of such quality as would add to the prestige of our school in this section.

We have all heard of the Fancy Dress at Washington and Lee, of the Rossburg at Maryland. Almost every institution, in fact, has a traditional affair for which it is well known. It is the intention of the newly formed Rousers Club to give to George Washington an annual affair that would become closely associated with our school very much in the same manner as the above-mentioned functions are connected with their universities.

The last few months of school after the Interfraternity and Panhel proms afford a splendid opportunity to present an affair of this sort which should not be overlooked.

The Rousers Club takes its membership from the Greeter's Club and the leaders of the new Cheering Section and criticism by the student body, both corrective and constructive, of this proposal, will be welcomed by this organization.

Sincerely yours,
LOWELL J. BRADFORD,

BETTER than a caffeine tablet or a half-dozen cokes, is a calm, quiet place to eat an attractively prepared dinner, particularly during the hectic week before finals. A little away from the clamor at school, Cleve's Cafeteria, 1715 G Street, offers the George Washingtonite a really clean, restful, and cheery place for dinner. Once there, choosing between a tempting array of different-looking salads and an order of oysters on the half shell is really a problem. Drop in tomorrow and learn to relax while you eat.

YOU CAN get your hair cut for 35 cents... even 25 cents. But if you aim to have a good-looking head from the rear view you'll pick a 50-cent shop that gives you your money's worth in extra appearance. Mr. Wilson has that kind of a shop up in the Columbia Medical Building. It's not only our personal choice but the pick of a lot of careful G. W. men. All of the paragraphs this week are for people in our own neighborhood. We made sure each guarantee satisfaction, is more anxious to serve than make a profit, is reliable, and above all, has what you want. Note that you're not being asked to patronize them to "support your publication." Buy from them only with your own interest at heart when you have a need for what they offer.

ON H STREET, right around the corner from the Law School, you can pick up sandwiches, coffee or even a full meal, when you are rushed—everything is reasonable. Bassins, 1921 H St.

GIFTS THAT not only please but also surprise with their unusualness. You'll find the smart, trim pottery items Mrs. Rothrock has in her window this week with the lamps, that... and even more! They're 75 cents, a dollar, 35 cents... all inexpensive. Flower urns, bon-bon dishes, plant pots, ice buckets... all practical things yet decorative. Certain to be appreciated! 1745 Penna. Ave.

ANY NUMBER of G. W. men have discovered that when they're in a pinch to have clothes cleaned or pressed Mr. Parson can help them out. He's just around the corner from 20th and the Avenue. The boys leave suits for attention just before class and get them just after. Guaranteed work. Satisfaction. You get them both at the National Cleaners & Dyers, 1928 Penna. Ave. West End Agency, too!

ARE YOU in the market for tennis or ping-pong equipment? Or ANY kind of things for athletics? Johnny Fenlon will take care of you in the same expert way he carried the ball for G. W. He can get you anything, although not all the new Colonial Sports Shop stock is in. He'll probably save money for you, too! 2008 Eye.

AT NINETEENTH and the Avenue, SMITH BROTHERS carry most newspapers and magazines. Also college supplies, $1 books, tobacco, pipes, and sodas. Open until midnight.

BIG TEN-OUNCE glass of beer—5 cents! Sandwiches that please so many, up to 1,000 a day are sold—10 cents! You can get them at the Kosmas Lunch, 18th and K... you'll find plenty of G. W. folks ahead of you, especially for late evening lunch.

TEN O'CLOCK, a date waiting, orchids ordered, and no full dress tie! But be nonchalant. Remember, the S. & M. Department Store at 1920 on the Avenue. Open until 11 o'clock on Saturday night and 8 week nights; the S. & M. has everything from the above-mentioned ties at 35 cents to shorts at 49. Disregarding the miscellaneous array in the window and the creaking in the floor as you enter, you'll find full-fashioned hose at 69 cents, pajamas, full dress shirts, house slippers, etc. Perhaps we're not coherent, but if you're out of something, go to the S. & M.; it'll be there and the proprietor (Mr. Wise) will treat you swell.

Engineers' Council Lists Annual Ball For February 9

President Marvin and Provost Wilbur to Be Honor Guests

The Engineers' Council announces that arrangements have been completed for the annual engineers' ball. The place—the Shoreham Hotel; the date—Friday, February 9; the time—10 'til 1; the orchestra—a Meyer-Davis unit.

The members of the council will serve as a reception committee for the guests of honor: President and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin; Provost and Mrs. William A. Wilbur; George O. Sanford, chief engineer of the Bureau of Reclamation, and Mrs. Sanford; and Dean and Mrs. John R. Lapham, of the School of Engineering. The chaperons are Prof. and Mrs. Frank A. Hitchcock, Prof. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, and Prof. and Mrs. Benjamin Crickshanks. Other members of the engineering faculty will also attend.

A Meyer-Davis unit, under the direction of David McWilliams, will furnish the music for the occasion. This band is one that is enjoying great popularity in Washington. Its most recent engagement was at the White House New Year's Eve. Last summer, David McWilliams' music made Glen Echo a popular resort for dancing.

The George Washington University Male Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Robert Howe Harman and accompanied by Mrs. Harmon, will present a group of songs.

The ball committee, headed by Terry J. McAdams, includes Paul L. Moats, Andrew F. Freeman, Thomas A. Bradford, Francis E. Bourke and Joseph B. Agan.

Ping-Pong Victors Decided This Week

The final matches in intramural ping-pong will be played off this week in Building R, second floor, at 4 p. m., Wednesday and Thursday.

These matches will be played between the winners of the three leagues, Pi Beta Phi in League I, Chi Omega in League II, and Alpha Delta Pi in League III. Wednesday afternoon Chi Omega will play Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Delta Pi. Thursday afternoon Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Delta Pi will compete. These matches will decide the winner of the tournament.

An intramural basketball tournament is scheduled to begin in February.

Women Gunners Score Third Win

Individual Match for Members Will Start After Exams

The women's rifle team scored its third win of the season Saturday by defeating the alumnae by a score of 493 to 485.

Varsity		Alumnae
Farley	99	Corea	98
Lincoln	99	Clark	97
Harrison	99	White	97
Christie	98	Sheffield	97
Smith	98	Raysor	96
Total	493	Total	485

Jane Picklin also shot a 98 for the varsity, but was outranked because she dropped her last shot.

The individual match for the squad members will begin immediately after exams and will continue until February 17. Each competitor will shoot six targets, two each week. The winner will receive a gold medal, and the members for the class teams will be chosen from the other high scorers.

Following this, on February 24, the class matches will begin and last until March 17. The members of the winning team will be awarded class numerals at the winter W. A. A. banquet.

Orchesis Sponsors Dance Symposium

A dance symposium under the sponsorship of Orchesis will be held March 10 at Pierce Hall, with a large number of schools participating. Among these are Maryland University, American University, Washington School of Physical Education, Marjorie Webster School, Wilson Teachers College, Fredericksburg State Teachers College, Harrisonburg State Teachers College, Hood College, and Goucher College. A rehearsal for the symposium is scheduled for February 6 at 7 p. m. in the gymnasium.

Virginia Pope was chosen chairman of the entertainment committee, and Annabelle McCullough and Frances Thompson were appointed to the committee at the regular meeting of Orchesis last Tuesday night. A social meeting is planned for February 1 at 8 p. m. in the apartment of Mrs. Ruth Foster.

Authorized Events

The following social functions have been authorized for the coming fortnight by the calendar committee of the Student Council:

Wednesday, January 27

The Constitution of the Student Council Of The George Washington University

Published every two years with amendments, by resolution of the Student Council, for filing by officers of student organizations and members of the student body.

PREAMBLE

WE, THE STUDENTS of The George Washington University, having been duly elected from the respective departments and empowered by the students of the University to establish and formulate a student government to act in matters concerning the student body, do establish a student organization to be known as the Student Council of The George Washington University.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. The name of this organization shall be the Student Council of The George Washington University.

Section 2. The Student Council shall have the power to act as an administrative, legislative and judicial organization in matters affecting the student body. All organized student activities, except those which are controlled by a special board or faculty committee, are under the supervision of the Student Council, subject to the approval of the President of the University. Without the consent and approval of the Student Council, no student organization which in any way represents the University before the public, or which purports to be a University organization or organization of University students, except those which are controlled by a special board or faculty committee, may use the name of the University in connection with its members as students.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. The members of this body shall be elected each year by the students of their respective departments as hereinafter prescribed.

Section 2. Every department shall be entitled to at least one representative. Every department having between seven hundred and fifty and fifteen hundred students enrolled therein shall be entitled to two representatives. Every department having fifteen hundred or more students enrolled therein shall be entitled to three representatives. No department shall be entitled to more than three representatives.

Section 3. A student to be eligible for membership on the Student Council shall be enrolled in the department he seeks to represent, shall be in good academic standing, and shall have completed a minimum of fifteen semester hours' work in this University at the time of his election, and shall have been elected in accordance with ARTICLE III.

ARTICLE III

Section 1. The representatives of the Student Council shall be elected each year during the last school week in April. These elections shall be administered and regulated in a manner prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council.

Section 2. The newly elected representatives shall meet with the Student Council but shall have no part in the proceedings thereof until the expiration of the school year. At the last regular meeting of the year, the newly elected members shall organize as the Student Council for the ensuing year.

Section 3. A student, to be an eligible candidate at said election, shall have a petition which shall be in the form of a nomination signed by at least five per cent of the students he seeks to represent. This petition, is to be filed with the Student Council at a time and in a manner prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council. The candidate shall sign an affidavit prior to the election, the contents of which shall be set forth in the by-laws of the Student Council and which affidavit must include a statement that, to the best of his knowledge, he will be enrolled in the department from which he is a candidate for the ensuing year.

Section 4. When a vacancy occurs in the representation of any department, said vacancy shall be filled by the defeated candidate of the department wherein the vacancy occurs, having the highest number of votes at the previous election. In the absence of any defeated candidate, the vacancy shall be filled by an election by said school under the direction of the Student Council, if the vacancy occurs before the end of the first semester. If the vacancy occurs during the second semester, the Student Council shall appoint a representative from that department to fill the vacancy.

Section 5. No student shall serve upon the Student Council for more than two successive years.

Section 6. Six representatives to the Council shall be appointed annually at the time of the regular elections for members above provided to represent men's athletics, women's athletics, publications, debating, music and dramatics, their elections and qualifications to be provided for by said organizations subject to the approval of the Council.

ARTICLE IV

Section 1. The Student Council shall hold regular meetings at a time and place prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council not greater than two weeks apart.

Section 2. The President of the Student Council shall have authority to call a special meeting of the Student Council whenever he deems such meeting necessary.

Section 3. All meetings of the Student Council shall be conducted in accordance with Roberts' Rules of Order, unless otherwise stipulated.

Section 4. No business may be disposed of in the absence of a quorum. A quorum shall consist of a simple majority of the total membership of the Student Council.

Section 5. No action shall be taken by the Student Council which affects only one particular department unless the representative or representatives of that department shall be present. However, in the event that such full representation of aforesaid department shall fail to appear at two successive meetings of the Student Council, action may be taken at the second meeting or subsequent meetings at the discretion of the Student Council.

ARTICLE V

Section 1. The officers of the Student Council shall consist of a president, a first vice president, a second vice president, a secretary, and a treasurer.

Section 2. The officers of the Student Council shall be selected from the Student Council by the Student Council and every officer shall be elected by a majority vote of the total membership of the Student Council. Any member of the Student Council is eligible to hold any one office.

Section 3. Any officer of the Student Council may be removed by a three-fourths majority vote of the total membership of the Student Council.

Section 4. The President of the Council shall not be elected from activities members.

ARTICLE VI

Section 1. Any member of the Student Council may be expelled by a three-fourths majority vote of all members of the Student Council. It is expressly provided, however, that such member shall receive written notice of this proposed action at least one week prior to such action, in order that he may appear before the Student Council with such defense as he deems necessary.

ARTICLE VII

Section 1. This Constitution may be amended by a three-fourths majority vote of the total membership of the Student Council, but this Constitution shall in no way be amended so as to deprive any school of its right to representation upon the Student Council.

ARTICLE VIII

Section 1. The by-laws of the Student Council may be repealed or altered by a simple majority vote of the total membership of the Student Council.

Announce Date Of Panhellenic Prom

Annual Affair to Be Given March 23 at Wardman Park Hotel

March 23 has been set as the date for the annual Panhellenic Prom, to be held at the Wardman Park Hotel from 10 to 1. Negotiations are now under way with several well-known orchestras that will be appearing in this vicinity at the time of the prom. Mary Lee Watkins, Zeta Tau Alpha, is chairman of the prom committee, with Mary Cox, Kappa Delta, and Edith Spaulding, Sigma Kappa, as her assistants.

Panhellenic rushing plans for the coming year have been turned over to a committee consisting of Ruth McNary, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Louise Yach, Phi Mu; and Florence Hedges, Alpha Delta Theta. The plans are expected to be completed by the first of February.

DIEBERT WILL LECTURE ON FOREIGN STUDENTS OVER RADIO FORUM

Learning the American viewpoint will aid in international understanding.

The medical investigator was, himself, the subject of an investigation and analysis in the radio talk last Thursday by Dr. Erritt C. Albritton, executive officer of the Medical School. He was revealed to be a markedly different person from the man who the public's imagination believes him to be, judging from the "medical investigator" pictured in advertisements and newspapers.

The real investigator is a scientist whose benefit for humanity has been great, for he has furthered medical knowledge for hundreds of years. One of the most important requirements of such a scientist is absolute and unwavering accuracy. Naturally a man who chooses this work must be careful, methodical and accurate, but these tendencies are further sharpened by the profession itself which has laid down a code of investigation to which its members are responsible. After explaining what is meant by controlled experiment, Dr. Albritton concluded with a brief discussion of the history of medical investigation during the last thousand years, with reference to some of the advances in medical knowledge which are due to this branch of the medical profession.

Latin America Educational Problems Topic of Brainerd

"Educational and Cultural Problems in Latin America" was the subject of an address given by Heloise Brainerd of the Pan-American Union at a meeting of Phi Pi Epsilon, foreign service sorority, held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Donaldson.

Senor Don Guillermo E. Gonzalez, councillor of legation and charge d'affaires of Costa Rica, also gave a few remarks concerning the Montevideo conference.

Among the other guests present were Ibrahim Seyfullah Bey, secretary of the Turkish embassy, and Senor de Aguiar, commercial attache of the Cuban embassy, and Senora de Aguiar.

Theodore Tiller Host To Art Club on Tuesday

The Tuesday Art section of the Art Appreciation Club will go to the studio of Theodore Tiller, Jr., at 1603 New Hampshire avenue to see his marionettes in the process of construction this afternoon.

Each Tuesday during the noon hour this group visits special exhibits or points of art interest. The group meets at Lambie House immediately after 12 o'clock. All interested students may attend.

Harris Addresses Lutherans

Dr. Frederick Brown Harris will speak at the Wesley club meeting tomorrow night at 9 o'clock in Lambie House. The executive committee of this organization, at a dinner on Monday evening, January 8, discussed plans for a party in February. Richard Cooley, chairman of the social committee, Evelyn Martick and Alfred Lundquist are in charge.

Inter-frat Prom Set For Next Semester

Chairman Frank Bastabel Announces Dance Date As Mar. 16; Band in Doubt

Elaborate plans are under way for the inter-fraternity prom, which Chairman Frank Bastabel claims will be the ranking social affair of the new semester. The tentative date for the annual prom has been set as Friday night, March 16. Although the place and band have not been definitely decided on, a down town hotel will be the scene of this year's prom, and negotiations are being made with a number of the most prominent bands of the East, according to Bastabel.

Despite the fact there will be no favors and no grand march this year, many unique features staged between dances with an elaborate floor show as the real surprise of the evening all point toward a gala affair. At midnight the program dancing will be interrupted for the awarding of the athletic and scholastic cups to the various fraternities.

Tickets will be $4 with a quota rate of $3 to fraternities which subscribe to their full quota of tickets.

The form of a reply to Representative Clara Critchfield, debating representative. Miss Critchfield declared that the Student Council would do well to discontinue class elections in the future since this election had in no way shown itself to have attracted student interest. Critchfield added that this all demonstrated what she had long considered to be true—class organization and spirit was never a fact and never would be on this campus.

"What Are We Here For?" Representative Critchfield closed her remarks with a plea that the Council spend its time furthering the new movement at Lambie House (a men's and women's social center) rather than expend its efforts in the futile cause of class organization. This brought Madigan to his feet with the declaration that "Here is what is wrong with class spirit. You all talk so much about not having class spirit and letting someone else do it when the time is ripe, that the councils go from year to year waiting for that time, and it never comes."

"What are we here for, if we are not going to try to do something? Let's get some action here instead of being afraid to make a move that takes initiative," he declared. Representative Joseph Danzansky took the floor here with a long smile and an approving nod as he said, "I could tell you I told you so, but I shan't."

Danzansky Supports Dues. Calling Madigan's plea for action, for initiative, and class organization, Danzansky declared that "if we had had class dues, we would have had class spirit by now. I have always fought for class dues. Now you know what it would do. I am in favor of some form of class dues—a form that would not compel those students taking only three hours at night to pay money, but one which would satisfy the majority of students in such a way that they would be interested."

"When a student has his money in the class, you will see class organization and class spirit rise high. They will have something in common then." Danzansky's fervent plea brought some criticism from various representatives. Bernard Fagelson went on record as being against class organization as well as class dues as the motion was passed by a 10 to 7 vote.

Originally the meeting had been called at the request of the Student Life Committee, with whom the Council was to have met. Since Dean Henry Grattan Doyle was ill at the time, the Student Life Committee announced it would meet with the Council at a later date.

THREE-CORNERED MOON SECOND PLAY PICKED BY CUE AND CURTAIN

his name begins with an 'S', she says. "Brown. Yes, that's it, Brown." And so it goes. With her family of three sons and a daughter, "all dropped on their heads when quite young," a poetical novelist, a Brooklyn beauty, and the family doctor (the only sane member of the group), Mrs. Rimplegar carries on. And "Three-Cornered Moon" deals with the antics of the whole family, flighty, batty, squirrely, and with their efforts to keep themselves alive by working, a thing previously unknown to them.

Season Tickets On Sale
Floyd Sparks, business manager of Cue and Curtain, announces that season tickets are now being sold in the Cue and Curtain office, first floor of Building Q. These tickets provide three admissions which may be split up between the two remaining plays of the season as the purchaser desires. The price for students is $1.50. The regular student price for admission to one play is 75 cents. Tickets for those not connected with the University sell at $1.

Try-outs for "Three-Cornered Moon" were held last week but the board has not yet been able to decide upon the cast.

Helen Newman Will Speak At Women's Bar Banquet

Helen Newman, law librarian of The George Washington University, will be the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Women's Bar Association Saturday, January 20, at the Mayflower Hotel.

Miss Newman will speak on "Judge Cranch of the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia, 1801-1855."

Newman Club Card Party Scheduled for Wednesday

The Newman Club card party, postponed from December because of the Cue and Curtain production, "Louder, Please," will be given at 8:30 p. m., Wednesday, January 31, at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Elizabeth Geiger is responsible for the arrangements for the party, at which there are expected to be at least 50 tables. Louise Gillis will take care of the prizes, which will include a door prize and one for each table. Elizabeth Mewshaw is in charge of the cake raffle, and Dorothy Craig will direct the selling of candy.

The Newman Club invites all students of the University to attend. The price of admission is 45 cents. All those taking whole tables will be acknowledged as patrons of the party.

Sororities Announce Initiation

Marriage, Engagement
Zeta Tau Alpha announces the formal initiation of Virginia Coffman Saturday, January 13. The ceremony was followed by a tea at the Carleton Hotel.

Alpha Delta Theta reports that the marriage of Beatrice Hoffman to Donald Sylvester will take place January 27.

Phi Sigma Sigma announces the engagement of Hilda Haves to Benjamin Manchester, Phi Delta Epsilon.

International Students Elect; Brewer Chosen as Advisor

The International Relations Club announces the election of Virginia Plugges as treasurer and Alice Whitman as librarian at the last regular meeting on January 10.

Dr. W. C. Johnstone, who will leave for the Far East next semester, was given a rising vote of appreciation for his work done during the past year for the club, and Dr. J. W. Brewer, of the political science department, was installed to take Dr. Johnstone's place as faculty advisor.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 7, and an invitation is cordially extended to all those wishing to attend.

Alpha Kappa Psi Pledges Two
Alpha Kappa Psi, commerce and economics fraternity, formally pledged Finis Parrish and Milton Powell at a meeting last Wednesday night. At the same time George M. Pollard was elected to serve as the chairman of the pledge class.

On January 31 the pledge class will conduct a discussion meeting of the fraternity on the subject, "Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation."

Sigma Kappa Mothers Entertain
The Mothers' Club of Sigma Kappa will have a card party in the sorority rooms, 2020 G street, Thursday, January 18, at 8 p. m.

Library Receives Foster Collection

All the known songs and compositions of Stephen Collins Foster, numbering over 200, were presented to the University Library by Josiah K. Lilly of Indianapolis. Included in the set are reproductions of first and early editions of "Old Folks at Home", "Old Black Joe", "My Old Kentucky Home", and other pieces that have been sung all over the world.

The object of Mr. Lilly's gift was to place 1,000 reference library sets of these faithful reproductions as a permanent record of the works of one of America's greatest composers.

Each reproduction is in the form of the original, be it sheet, broadside, in magazine, or song book. The compositions are arranged alphabetically in three hard buckram, dust proof, slip cases in a steel container.

Women's Education Club Hears Russian Wednesday

James Sweet, a Russian now living in Washington, will address the Women's Education Club on "Russian Education" on Wednesday, January 17, and not on January 10, as previously announced in The Hatchet. The meeting will be held in Corcoran Hall 15 at 8:15 p. m.

Students interested in a comparison of Czarist and U. S. S. R. educational systems have been invited to attend.

Bemis Article Published in American Historical Review

Professor Samuel Flagg Bemis, executive officer of the Department of History, is the author of an article in the January issue of The American Historical Review entitled "Washington's Farewell Address: A Foreign Policy of Independence."

Speakers' Congress Will Discuss "Minnesota Case"

The Speakers' Congress will meet at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, January 17, to debate the question, "Resolved: That the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States upholding the right of the State of Minnesota to declare a moratorium upon mortgages due and payable within certain times set by States statutes, was correct."

David Betts will present the affirmative case and James Edwards the negative. Mid-term elections of officers will follow the debate.

All students are cordially invited to attend.

School Administration Not Presented Next Semester

Education 186, School Administration, will not be offered next semester, according to Dean Ruediger of the School of Education. Students who planned to take this course should register for Education 188, School Supervision, or Education 190, Comparative Education.

The thesis group of the School of Education, whose meeting was omitted in January, will meet on Monday, February 12, at 7:30.

Twenty-five Cent Luncheons Served Today to All Students

Twenty-five cent luncheons will be served today at Lambie House from 12 till 1 o'clock by the Colonial Campus Club, according to Margaret Elms, president. No reservations are necessary, and all students are invited to attend.

Since the remodeling of Lambie House, one third-floor room has been set aside for a library. The books will circulate among all students, who are requested to contribute as many books as possible.

Steel Gauntlet to Aid Junior Prom Deficit

Steel Gauntlet, junior class honorary activities society, voted last Thursday to assist in paying off the 1933 Junior Prom deficit.

At a second meeting Sunday night, the honor group decided to hold a dance on Friday, February 9, as the best means of raising money for the project. Floyd Sparks was chosen chairman of the committee in charge. Other committeemen are Joseph Danzansky, Sam Detwiler, Bernard Fagelson and John Madigan.

In taking this action, the organization did not thereby assume responsibility for the debt, estimated at about $160, but merely agreed to turn over to Prom creditors any money which could be raised.

University Rings Available

The official George Washington senior class rings adopted last year by the Student Council, are available for graduating seniors at the University Store in the basement of the Law School, according to Katherine Cutler, chairman of the council jewelry.

Spectators who wish to view the actual judging may attend the Willard Hotel function Saturday night with no admission charges; it was announced.

Rogers, headlining the Fox Theatre stage show next week, declared in an interview held at the Century Theatre in Baltimore last night, that he was delighted to have the opportunity to act as judge in the George Washington University beauty contest. The screen favorite has been much interested in George Washington's football progress, he declared, since the Colonials had given his Alma Mater, Kansas, such a "hard-fought tussle."

Luckies

Remember you fully packed

THE TOBACCO DOES NOT SPILL OUT

Good tobaccos... real good tobaccos... that's the reason for Lucky Strike's fine, smooth quality. We use only the center leaves of the finest Turkish and domestic tobacco plants. Not the top leaves—because those are underdeveloped. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We use only the center leaves—because these are the mildest leaves—fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only these choice tobaccos are used to make Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—and no loose ends to spill out. That's why Luckies are always mild and smooth. That's why always "Luckies please". And don't forget—"It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

Colonials Drop Tilts To St. Johns, Long Island, in New York

Johnnies Grab Victory in Last Minute, Duplicating Last Year's Feat

Noticeably affected by their desperate, though futile efforts to protect a short lead over St. John's College the night before, the Colonial quintet went down before the undefeated Long Island five Thursday night to conclude their second unsuccessful New York invasion of the current season.

Although going down to final defeat by the score of 32 to 30, the Colonials gave the best performance of the current season against St. John's. The Brooklyn team, rated along with City College of New York as the class of New York, for the second year in succession was extended to the limit to take the decision.

St. John's Game Fast

In the St. John's contest, a game marked by fast play and few fouls, the Colonials got off to an early lead. This lead was held tenaciously during the first half, the count being 18 to 12 in favor of the Colonials when the gun sounded half time.

The Buff and Blue campaigners resumed their effective play in the early part of the second half and with only ten minutes to play the score read 27 to 23 in favor of the ultimate losers. At this point, however, St. John's rallied and soon tied the count; then with only seconds to go the Brooklynites scored the necessary basket.

Summary:

Apparently slowed down considerably by their hard game with St. John's, the Colonial basketballers were downed Thursday night by Long Island University by the score of 41 to 25.

The Long Islanders got off to a flying start and scored 21 points before the Colonial offense even began to function. At the half the score was 27 to 5.

During the second half the Colonials outpointed Long Island, but were unable to menace the impressive lead the hosts had attained.

Tank Men Engage Cavalier Natators In Season Opener

Both the varsity and freshman swimming meets scheduled for last week with the University of Delaware and Western High, respectively, were postponed. Instead the varsity proteges of Coach Lyman will open their season January 20, when they engage the University of Virginia here. Delaware will be met February 6.

However, the freshman squad will face a week of stiff competition, meeting the tankmen of the Washington "Y" tomorrow night; Friday night, January 19, the Baltimore "Y" natators, and Saturday afternoon, January 20, at 2:30, the Central High team.

All matches will be held at the Ambassador pool. Students will be admitted to these meets by presentation of their activity books.

SPORT AXE

By ROBERT HENZOG

Mr. James E. Pixlee, the head man at the famous Colonial Tabernacle, very politely but firmly squelched the "Prexy" of local sports scribes a day or two ago. It seems as though the genial Herald writer, Bob Considine, had emphatically inferred that Mr. Pixlee was about to retire as active football coach, and would hold the duties of Athletic Director. Mr. Pixlee's denial, reduced to a minimum of ten-cent words, was, "Absolutely fallacious."

Which tempts us to inform you that the recent visit of Jim Bausch to Washington has about as much to do with the Buff and Blue situation as the recent visit of "Hunk" Anderson. Anderson signed up with Carolina while spending a few days at a local hostelry.

In case my readers aren't followers of the court-sport, it wouldn't be a bad idea to toss a couple of bouquets in the path of the lanky Colonial center. Bill Noonan, as he is known to his family, has developed the enviable reputation of being the "mostly" improved basketball on local floors. If a college columnist was permitted to philosophize he would say, "To have improved is as worthy as to have won."

One of the most interesting spots in last year's basketball campaign was the potent challenge of Ox Wickham and Bill Noonan for the post held by the regular center, Ty Hertzler. The regular this year is Bill Noonan. The challenger is a chap named Ruley. The latter weighs about 175 pounds, reaches the 6' 1" mark, makes all-A's in school, and specializes in accurate execution of block plays. (Slugging in the clinches—to you.)

Because of the Med School exams the swimming meet with the University of Delaware which was scheduled to be swum in Delaware Saturday night was postponed. The new date is February 6.

We don't want to appear to be wandering, but we failed to mention while speaking of the basketball team that Tuffy Leemans is coming through like a major. As his best friends would put it, "Tuffy is an all-American in any sport." If you happen to hear any unjust criticism from the varsity house you can best your last dime that it's jealousy.

"Gentleman Jean" Sexton is now traveling through Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas on what the "old bird men" would call a "hunting trip." We have a rather remote idea that the "Lord" is hunting big game. The prey will come east under the misnomer of a freshman team. And we upper classmen are certain the boys will make good meat for the next varsity scrimmages.

The intramural ping-pong tournament is therefore postponed. The outstanding men at the table court to date are the aforementioned Mr. Ruley and the ne'er to be forgotten Johnny Baker.

Cal Griffith, local athlete par excellence—which means he plays both baseball and basketball, was recently elected vice president of the Chattanooga minor league ball club. Cal is a son of the Washington baseball team's owner... Walter Johnson, Jr. (whose name serves as a tag) will grace the Colonial diamond this season, as will Dick Nichols. Nichols enjoyed a tryout with the Griffins during the '33 campaign.

Frosh Defeat Tech, Gonzaga, Roosevelt

Russell Runs Wild to Score 17 Points in Seventh Victory of Yearlings

By overcoming Roosevelt, Gonzaga and Tech on successive days last week, the Frosh basketball team now has attained seven victories in eight games. The only setback suffered by the yearling quint so far this season was a one point last second defeat at the hands of the championship aspiring Eastern five.

After being held to a 12 to 12 tie during the first half, the Frosh found themselves at beginning of the second period and had little difficulty in disposing of the Roosevelt quint by the score of 25 to 17.

With McGibboney and Cannifax leading the scoring with six points each, the Frosh took an early lead over Gonzaga, the half score being 18 to 7. In the second period Coach Logan ran in a number of substitutes and the Colonial offense seemed to slacken. The final score was 29 to 22.

The efforts of Everett Russell alone were almost enough to defeat Tech Saturday in the Frosh quint's third triumph of the week.

Undefeated L. S. U. Eleven Lays Claim To Southeast Conference Grid Throne

"Biff" Jones' Warriors Oppose Colonials Here November 10; Trimmed Tennessee 7-0 as It Garnered 176 Points Against Opposition's 27

Coming to the top of the football heap in a rush which was climaxed by its undefeated season last fall, Coach "Biff" Jones' Louisiana State eleven, scheduled to oppose the Colonials here November 10, should attain even greater heights in 1934. Three ties, resulting from encounters with Centenary, Vanderbilt and Tulane, allowed the Baton Rouge outfit to lay claim to the Southeastern Conference championship, with Alabama. Neither lost a Conference game, although the Vandy and Tulane scores cramped L. S. U.'s claim somewhat.

In 10 games the L. S. U. offense rolled up 176 points while holding the opposition to 27. The high spot of the season appropriately came at the end when the Volunteers of Tennessee were trimmed by L. S. U., 7-0. In defeating Major Neyland's great team, the Louisianians became one of the four teams to beat Tennessee in the past eight years.

McGugin Works With Sophs
Vanderbilt, sister of L. S. U. in the Southeastern Conference, meets Pixlee's charges a week before the latter and is also expected to place a powerful team on the field next fall. Dan McGugin worked with a bunch of sophs last fall, who gained needed experience rapidly as the season progressed. A 9-3 triumph over Georgia Tech and holding the Crimson Tide of Alabama to a single tally were the big feats of McGugin's boys last fall.

Oklahoma, who returns to the Colonial list as the Thanksgiving Day attraction after a year's absence, also had a team comprised largely of second-year men in the past campaign. John Lee, an Oklahoma star of five years ago, who now aids Len Walsh in

Fast Va. Poly Five Here Friday Night

Gave Buff and Blue Hard Fight Last Year; Cessa Fine Shot

V. P. L. invades the Colonial stronghold Friday night for the first basketball game at home for O'Leary's boys after two weeks on the road. The Virginians fell before G. W. on their own floor last winter, 44-40, after a terrific fight. This season they have another of their fast quints, which should test Howell and his mates all the way.

At this writing it is not known whether Sammy Stein will be in the line-up or not.

Saturday night in the Virginia Poly gym Maryland ran up an early lead to top the former 29-24. Cessa and Thomas were the big guns for V. P. L., and these two sharp-shooting forwards may trouble George Washington considerably.

O'Leary Scintillates As Rosebuds Wilt

Brain Trust Wins, 30-23, in Feature Match of Logan League

With a flashing, smashing, canny attack, the Brain Trust, pride of the athletic department, decisively beat the shorts off the Rosebuds last Saturday afternoon, 30-23, in a feature game between the headliners of Logan's Basketball League.

Spear-point for the well-planned thrusts of the Brain Trust was Ted O'Leary, who scored 23 points. Scampering at will about the court, O'Leary made impossible shots seem easy, tallying with baskets from any and all angles.

Despite the versatility of this stellar opponent, the Rosebuds put up a hard fight to stave off annihilation, until O'Leary nonchalantly looped a snowbird over the rafters which cut the cords with barely a swish. Thereupon the Rosebuds wilted and, figuratively, went to seed.

Forming a well-modulated supporting background for O'Leary's outstanding performance were Coaches John Lee, Bill Myers, Len Walsh, and Roland Logan. Ben Plotnicki, Don Bomba, Arnold Benefield, Rhodes, and Ed Clark comprised the vanquished Rosebuds.

Not at all disheartened by the Rosebuds' defeat, the Daisy Chain, composed of Gil Conn, Johnny Baker, Boyd Hickman, Frank Lee, and Wayne Daventport, was reported to be girding up its loins for a match with the canny Brain Trust. Another entrant in the league, the Dandelions, is also polishing up on its pot shots and preparing for battle.

Logan's Versatility Is Lauded by Daily

A recent story in the Washington Post claims that tenor-coach Logan is the busiest man in Washington. The Post says that a one-armed paper-hanger is a piker in contrast to Coach Logan.

The Daily went on to comment on the versatility of the local handy man. Roland is assistant varsity football coach, trainer, freshman basketball coach, instructor of advanced gymnastics, principal of plays and intramural athletics, and a vocalist.

Logan goes about his work with a song on his lips. His greatest assets, according to the Post, are a fine coordination of muscles and a fighting spirit.
